

PBIS at Home

Family involvement is key when developing positive behavior support plans for students.

PBIS schools focus on teaching the behaviors they desire while at school through explicit instruction, practice and positive reinforcement. A strong partnership between the home and the school and provide families with ideas on addressing behavior in a similar way at home too.

How can you can implement PBIS at home?

1. Keep in mind your child's strengths and interests.
2. Establish clear expectations at home.
3. Create routines for your family.
4. Anticipate challenges and plan accordingly.
5. Try to be consistent and know how you are going to react.
6. Model the behavior you want your child to learn.
7. Communicate clearly what behavior you want your child to demonstrate.
8. Talk about feelings and use visuals to help your child understand.

What is PBIS?

Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports

Positive Behavior Supports is a data-driven, team-based framework that enhances the capacity of schools, families, and communities to respond to the unique needs of each student.

This 3 Tiered System focuses on creating and sustaining school-wide, small group, and individual systems of support.

Purpose of PBIS

The purpose is to improve lifestyle results for all students by making targeted behaviors less effective, efficient, relevant, and desired behavior more

Friday Falcon Shout Outs

Every Friday, our school gathers together in the quad to celebrate and recognize individual student success. These special shout outs include a few students from some classes who modeled the Falcon 5 focus of the week, birthdays, and new milestones in AR (Accelerated Reader Program).

Parents/Guardians are welcome to join in the quad!
